

Shohei Yokoyama Firmness, Commodity and the Lies

Shohei Yokoyama, artist and architect, presents "Firmness, Commodity and the Lies." His photographs of buildings, through digital alterations, reveal true essences – or plain lies. These works are the culmination of photography and architectural communication introducing viewers to new realities and new truths about the buildings portrayed.

Born in Tokyo, Shohei now resides in Seattle. He earned his Master of Architecture at the University of Houston, Texas.

SRG for Japan

Donations for the art will be accepted to support survivors of the Japanese earthquake and tsunami. 100% of the proceeds will be contributed to relief efforts organized by Shigeru Ban, the Japanese architect dedicated to devising shelters for disaster victims around the world.
